

YLOZEN

Shaping an attractive city means creating green settings, encouraging calm atmospheres, bringing intimacy into the shared space, cooling and lowering urban temperatures.

Users of public spaces want a more comfortable, greener and safer city.

Climatologists are calling for an increase in the proportion of greenery in urban environments to lower temperatures.

Ecologists want to turn cities into new areas for biodiversity.

Inspired by nature, the Ylozen shapes created by designer Arturo Erbsman are plant-like. They illustrate the desire to assert the renewal of public spaces and allow the developer multiple compositions.

The leaf-shaped furniture is available in various sizes and is designed to be installed without any preliminary work to create real islands of coolness.

The installation of Ylozen secures and calms the space, guarantees the separation of flows and restricts the crossing or intrusion of vehicles.

Combined, the ready-to-install Ylozen Leaves and planters will free up the use of the space and create shaded, refreshing, calm and safe areas.

With Ylozen, add value to your landscaped projects and transform neglected and impersonal spaces into comfortable and friendly urban oases.
